D ubl Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 1 and 2 provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1 and 2 of copending Application No. 09/578,058. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

DETAILED ACTIONClaim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 2-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kobayashi (US 5,430,538).

The patent describes an apparatus for evaluation of gems, comprising: a surface 16 that is positioned on the object side of the lens of video camera 13 facing away from the lens, and the doughnut-shape surface 16 having an aperture for allowing the gemstones to be viewed on the object side of the lens facing away from the lens; and a plurality of colored sections of a different color.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kobayashi (US 5,430,538).

The patent describes an apparatus for evaluation of gems, comprising: a surface 16 that is positioned on the object side of the lens of video camera 13 facing away from the lens, and the doughnut-shape surface 16 having an aperture for allowing the gemstones to be viewed on the object side of the lens facing away from the lens; and a plurality of colored sections of a different color.

The sections of the filter 16 are not concentric rings. However, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to have a certain shape of the sections, since a change in shape is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art.
